Dear Friends of the Royal Australian Navy,

It gives me great pleasure to announce the release of an official publication in 2026 to commemorate the 125th anniversary of the Royal Australian Navy, and the International Fleet Review being held in Sydney in March, 2026.

Specialist military publisher Faircount Media Group will produce the publication to high quality specifications using perfect binding, laminated covers and high-grade paper stock. The editorial content will be written by experts in their field for use as an information source for the International Fleet Review and throughout the 125th anniversary year. This publication is in celebration of 125 years of the Royal Australian Navy and how our organisation has evolved over time protecting Australia's national security, economic prosperity and way of life.

In addition to being made available to all VIP's, international dignitaries, international Navy Chiefs, and attendees at the International Fleet Review and other Royal Australian Navy events, the publication will be distributed to serving members of the Royal Australian Navy, senior military and civilian leaders within the Department of Defence and Australian Government, and to appropriate contractors, associations and academic institutions. As this publication cannot be funded by the Commonwealth, your marketing support will allow Faircount Media Group to bring it to life, sharing the stories and perspectives of all those connected to our Navy family.

Faircount has an established reputation in the field of naval, military and aviation/aerospace publishing. Their publications in partnership with the Royal Australian Navy are highly regarded. Examples include 100 Years of the Royal Australian Navy in 2011 and the 2013 edition of Navy Outlook, used as the official publication for the very successful 2013 International Fleet Review.

They have also produced publications for the Defence Science and Technology Group, the Royal Australian Regiment, the United States and Canadian Armed Forces and NASA.

Please call David Sanis at Faircount Media Group on 0405 116 315 if you have any questions concerning participation as a marketing partner, or to learn more about the publication.

Yours sincerely,

Mark D. Hammond, AO
